ALERT                      ALERT                      ALERT                      ALERT

We are aware that one of our past employees is soliciting our customer base to become their pool service guy. This person has demonstrated questionable work patterns resulting in service quality and trustworthiness issues, which became unacceptable to us. Our concerns extend to how he might address a company's responsibility for the provision of proper license, insurance and service warranty issues for both weekly service and repair work to customers. We do not believe he is a good fit for our customer's backyards. It would be irresponsible for us not to share this information. In the event anyone may be seriously considering service from one of our past employees, I would encourage you to perform a background check before doing so. Alternatively, you can call our office for additional information on this matter.
