Delays of Service

Call today for heater pricing to help extend your swim season.

As with many service based companies continue to deal with staffing shortages, we try our best to keep our customers service days the same each week. However, there will be some times where our routes do get delayed. It is our commitment that we will get all of our customers serviced every week, there just might be occasional day changes. We do apologize for the delays but our technicians try their best to notify their customers of any day changes.

Fall is a great time to earn FREE service for referring new customers to us.

Supply-Chain Disruptions

Earn one FREE month for each new customer referred!

Every week we receive updates from our distributors of continual disruptions in getting new and repair parts in the pool industry. Most items like filter elements, gaskets, baskets and fittings are available in a few days. We do still see large wait times, sometimes up to a few months on complete heat pumps, lights, control panels and filtration pumps.

For your pets safety and our technicians, please try to contain your pets on your service day. Please make sure gates are working properly to allow our technicians access to your backyard.

All of us at North East Florida Pool Service wish you a safe and Happy Thanksgiving!
